Eastwest Model European Union

BECOME PROTAGONISTS OF THE COUNCIL, COMMISSION AND EUROPEAN PARLIAMENT DECISION-MAKING PROCESSES

PARTNERSHIP WITH

What is it about?

The EWEI Model EU Brussels is a project conducted by the Eastwest European Institute in partnership with Associazione Diplomatici in which university students and recent graduates with the most varied and multicultural background are invited to test their own ideas and conception of how the European Union works and should work by taking on the role of Commissioners, Council members and parliamentarians, thus building for the future a network of young professionals with a strong awareness of European values.

The main goal of the project is to make participants learn more about the functioning of the main European institutions thanks to direct experience of the ordinary EU legislative procedure, the “Trilogue”, with the learning by doing method.

The project

Each participant will be called to represent a member of Parliament or to take on the role of EU Commissioner or Minister of the Council of the EU to confront other European and international students on issues of crucial importance for the European agenda and draft legislative proposals on relevant topics.

TRAINING COURSE

In the weeks preceding the simulation, delegates will take part in a training course held online through an e-learning platform. In particular, they will take part in a series of meetings held by experts, journalists from the eastwest magazine and diplomats.

In this way, students will have the opportunity to gain a complete understanding of the policies adopted by the Member States and political parties before putting into practice their newly acquired knowledge.

The knowledge of the functioning of the European institutions will be particularly deepened, as a focus will be placed on the "Trilogue" and on the techniques of public speaking and diplomatic negotiation.

The online course and all communications with the staff will be held in English, the official language of the project.
